

Battle of the Books

We are excited to kick off our Battle of the Books competition at our school! Students who participate will benefit in many ways, including:

- Students are exposed to a variety of meaningful literature from a grade-level list.
- They learn teamwork as they compete as part of a team to answer questions about the books.
- Reading the books helps students build reading skills, fluency, and vocabulary.
- They receive academic recognition.
- Everyone who participates will take part in an end-of-season celebration.

Books are available to check out from our school library, and teams are beginning to form now. Parents are also welcome to read the books with their students. Battles will begin the end of January/beginning of February and will take place during school hours. Teams will be asked “In which book...” questions, and will receive points for knowing the correct titles and authors of the books.

Tablets will also be available for students to check out that will have the eBook and the audiobook available for most titles.
